2. Select Italian to switch to the Italian keyboard layout.

How to Use the Keyboard Layout in Windows 7, Vista, and XP
After you setup the Italian keyboard in Windows, you can easily switch between Italian and the system language (i.e., the language of Windows in your computer). You switch languages using the keyboard selector located in the Task Bar at the bottom of the computer screen.
1. When you setup the Italian keyboard, you will see a language indicator on the Task Bar to the right near the System Tray (see the red arrow in the picture). For example, if you are typing in English, the language selector box will say "EN." If you are typing in Italian, the language selector box will show "IT."

2. Open the application in which you wish to type.
3. Click inside the application. For example, if you wish to type in Microsoft Word, open the Word and click inside the text edit area.
4. Left click on the language selector box to open the keyboard menu.
5. Click on the desired keyboard layout in the keyboard menu.
6. You can now start typing in the selected keyboard language.
7. If you wish to return to the system language, click on the language selector box and select the desired keyboard.
How to Type Italian Characters

AltGr Key

Another feature of the Italian language is the right Alt key which is called the AltGr (or Alt-Graphics) key (note that the left Alt key has no function in this). This key allows you to access certain characters in the keyboard layout. For example, in many European keyboards, press the AltGr key and the "E" key to get the Euro symbol.

In the Italian keyboard layout, you will find the AltGr symbols in the middle center of the number keys and punctuation keys. The AltGr characters appear in the lower left corner of the alpha keys in the layout.

The 102 Keyboard

Many European countries use a 102 keyboard which includes an additional key to the left of the "Z" key on the bottom row of keys. If your keyboard does not have this key, you can still print the characters using the numeric keypad.

To print the ">" key, hold down the right Alt key and type 062 in the numeric keypad.
To print the "<" key, hold down the right Alt key and type 060 in the numeric keypad.
